Faculty, student, and community writers share their original fiction and poetry at Windward Community College Library!

6:00pm Thursday, September 22, 2011

Gather for light refreshments and pre-reading entertainment at 6:00. The reading will begin at 6:30, featuring the following writers:

LANCE UYEDA is a fiction writer who teaches writing and literature at Windward Community College.

GAIL HARADA is a poet who teaches writing and literature at Kapiolani Community College.

PAUL S. NELSON is a resident of the north shore and author of five books of poetry.

STUDENTS from ENG272 American Literature and Culture will share original poems inspired by the works of Emily Dickinson and Walt Whitman.

Contact Janine Oshiro at 236-9231 for more info.