MEMORANDUM

November 6, 1986

TO: Academic Deans, University of Hawaii at Manoa
Chancellor, University of Hawaii at Hilo
Chancellor, West Oahu College
Director, Academic Affairs, Community Colleges

FROM: Charles H. Lamoureux, Associate Dean
Academic Affairs

Currently UH Manoa offers three basic courses in Economics. These are:

- ECON 120 Introduction to Economics (general survey)
- ECON 150 Principles of Economics (emphasis on macro-economics)
- ECON 151 Principles of Economics (emphasis on micro-economics)

Students may earn credit for any two of these courses and any two of the three are required as prerequisites for a number of 300- and 400-level economics courses. The College of Business Administration requires that their students take 150 and 151 as the two basic courses. The courses may be taken in any sequence.

The Economics Department has proposed that, starting in Fall 1987, the micro-economics course (151) should be taken before the macro-economics course (150), and that either the general survey course (120) or the micro-economics course should be a prerequisite for the macro-economics course. It should be noted that the content of each course will not change significantly.

To emphasize the change in sequence, however, some course numbers will change. The new arrangement is this:

- ECON 120 Introduction to Economics (general survey) no prerequisites
- ECON 130 (formerly 151) Principles of Economics (emphasis on micro-economics) no prerequisites
- ECON 131 (formerly 150) Principles of Economics (emphasis on macro-economics) Prereq.: 120 or 130

These changes have been approved by the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and will take effect in Fall 1987.
