CALL FOR FOOD AND CRAFT VENDORS FOR 2ND ANNUAL PALIKU ARTS FESTIVAL
AT WINDWARD COMMUNITY COLLEGE
MARCH 31, 2012

KANE’OHE—The 2nd Annual Paliku Arts Festival at Windward Community College is accepting applications for Food and Craft vendors interested in participating in the event on March 31, 2012 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in and around the grounds of Paliku Theatre on the Windward Community College campus in Kaneohe. Last year’s festival was a successful one, attracting approximately 4,000 people and was a big hit with the kids!

Interested vendors can download the application from wcc.hawaii.edu/PalikuArtsFestival and mail it to Rob Molyneux, Windward Community College, 45-720 Kea’ahala Rd, Kaneohe, HI 96744. For more information, contact Rob at rmolyneu@hawaii.edu.

FOOD BOOTH: Fee is $350 and must be reserved by March 1. Vendors need to provide their own tent, and proof of G.E.T. License, Department of Health Temporary Food Booth Permit, Certificate of Liability Insurance of no less than $500,000 per occurrence and $1 million in the aggregate, with the University of Hawai’i-Windward Community College named as additional insured for the Paliku Arts Festival.

ARTS/CRAFTS BOOTH: Fee is $75; must reserve by March 1. The festival will provide space for a 10 x 10 ft. booth. Vendors will be chosen by the type of product(s) sold to limit duplication. Preference will be given to handcrafted, made-in-Hawai’i items.

The festival’s emphasis is on “doing” art. Windward CC art professors, instructors and their students will be on hand to assist those who want to express their creativity in a variety of ways—from painting, drawing, and sculpting to moving, acting, music and speaking.
