Catalog Description
HIST 152 is a survey course focusing on the historical development of selected areas of the world from the 16th century to the present. Emphasis placed on analysis of the impact of industrialization, East-West interaction, and the rise of nationalism. (3 hrs. lect)
WCC: FG

Foundation Requirement and Hallmarks
Hist. 152 fulfills 3 credits in Group B of the General Education requirement (Foundations: Global and Multicultural Perspectives) for both an A.A. degree at WCC and a Bachelor’s degree at UH Manoa. Consequently, it meets the following hallmarks of global and multicultural perspectives:

1. provide students with a large-scale analysis of human development and change over time.
2. analyze the development of human societies and their cultural traditions through time in different regions (including Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe and Oceania.)
3. offer a broad, integrated analysis of cultural, economic, political, scientific and/or social development that recognizes the diversity of human societies and their cultural traditions.
4. examine processes of cross-cultural interaction and exchange that have linked the world’s peoples through time while recognizing diversity.
5. include at least one component on Hawaiian, Pacific, or Asian societies and their cultural traditions.
6. engage students in the study and analysis of writings, narratives, texts, artifacts, and/or practices that represent the perspectives of different societies and cultural traditions.

Student Learning Outcomes
The student learning outcomes for the course are:

1. Identify important individuals, places, organizations and concepts in modern world history.
2. Arrange, in chronological order, significant events in world history.
3. Describe and analyze global processes from 1500 C.E to the present (e.g. human migration, ecological forces, imperialism, decolonialism, industrialism, nationalism, globalization.)
4. Explain cause and effect relationships in history.
5. Compare and contrast historical experiences across cultures and time.
6. Relate historical events to contemporary issues and events.
COURSE TASKS

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
1. To think critically about World History issues through discussion, reading, and writing assignments.
2. To be able to critique different points of view and to be able to discuss and examine issues from more than one angle. In other words, to leave class more open minded than before.
3. To learn to integrate information from both primary and secondary sources.
4. To understand the impact of globalization and cross-cultural interaction which is a major theme of World Civilizations 2002. This course covers the period from the 1500s to the present day. We will study the major intellectual, political, and social developments of the time periods we cover. After completing this course, I want you to be able to watch the news, read a book, travel, or even see a movie and see connections between what you have learned in this class and why societies and nations think and act the way they do today.

Additional Information

ATTENDANCE: Failure to attend any class will cause you to fall behind and affect your ability to understand class discussion. Any absences due to family emergencies or illnesses should be discussed with the instructor as soon as possible. Unexcused absences will NOT be allowed and will affect your participation grade.
PUNCTUALITY: A lateness of more than ten minutes will be counted as a tardy. Two tardies will be counted as a full absence. PLEASE ALSO COME TO CLASS AND STAY IN CLASS. IF YOU SHOW UP FOR CLASS, PLEASE DO NOT LEAVE WHEN YOU FEEL LIKE IT.

PRESENTATION: All assigned readings must be done before the class for which they are assigned. Contributing to class discussion and participation in class are also part of your participation grade, especially since we will often have group discussions and open debate periods between lectures.

EXAMS AND QUizzes: May NOT be made up unless there is an extreme and documented emergency.

PAPERS: are due on the day designated on your syllabus. If turned in the next day, the paper is worth 10 points instead of 15. Papers will not be accepted if more than one day late.

IMPORTANT: ANY CHEATING BY COPYING OFF THE INTERNET OR SOMEONE ELSE’S PAPER WILL RESULT IN AN IMMEDIATE FAILURE.
