“First: competence, which was expected. Second: excellence, which only some seek. Third: mastery, which very few ever tried for. It was a level of proficiency and skill so high it allowed you to do something better than anyone else.” Barak Obama

“Life is short, art long, opportunity fleeting, experience perilous, judgment difficult.”

Prerequisites: Art 107, or consent of instructor.

Activities Required at Scheduled Times Other Than Class Times

Field trips may be arranged and must be attended. Plan on spending 9 - 12 hours per week outside of class time photographing, researching and/or in open lab.
STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The student learning outcomes for the course are:

1. Conceptualize an idea and translate it photographically into a visual form.
2. Use different black and white films and development procedures to convey and express different photographic aesthetics.
3. Express through refined photographic techniques your ideas, feelings and/or concepts.
4. Produce photographic prints that require proficient skill in darkroom techniques.
5. Understand historic and contemporary concepts of photography.
6. Comprehend and sensitively apply the visual elements of line, shape, value, texture, space and motion, and the design principles of balance, rhythm, dominance, contrast, variation and unity to photography projects.
7. Complete the creative problem-solving process from planning and discovery to implementation and evaluation.
8. Experiment by taking risks through the process of exploration and revision during the creative problem solving process.
9. Demonstrate strong communication skills and speak clearly during critiques.

A.A. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Draw on knowledge from the liberal arts to succeed in upper division courses.

Use research and technology skills to access information from multiple sources; use critical thinking and problem-solving skills to evaluate and synthesize information to form conclusions, ideas, and opinions.

Express ideas clearly and creatively in diverse ways through the fine and performing arts, speech and writing.

Pursue lifelong learning.

COURSE TASKS

Working with the photographic process you will learn the potentials and limitations of a visual medium that has become an intrinsic part of our social, political, economic and cultural identity. Through specific assignments and projects you will learn and become proficient in the mechanics of exposure/development of the negative, enlarging and presentation of the final print and challenge your creativity. These assignments will also require you to think visually and to translate verbal and emotional ideas photographically. You will understand and experience the process of creativity and the time required to produce a finished photographic print. Through lectures and critiques you will also be introduced to the history of photography and its positive and negative contributions to society. You will discover the visual vocabulary and language associated with a two-dimensional process and thereby become aware of the many meanings and messages of photographs. Finally, by understanding visual language, i.e., its vocabulary, structure, composition and poetry, you should be able to analyze and more fully appreciate any photograph.

ASSESSMENT TASKS AND GRADING

Four to six assignments will be given and must be completed. Class attendance is mandatory at each of the class critiques (both “work in progress” and final critiques). Since this is a sequential class to ART 107 and basic knowledge of the photographic process is assumed, you will work somewhat independently with a minimum of supervision. The critiques, discussions, and lectures become the main pedagogic experience. Your time spent making photographs and in the darkroom practicing, experimenting and building your skills become the main learning experience.

Evaluations will be based on: How well you approach and complete the assignments, your individual progress and art work, regular attendance, class participation, effort and creativity. Lectures, discussions and audio-visual materials are crucial to this course, therefore participation in these activities is required. If you miss a film, you need to watch it online (if available) and write a three page reaction paper. Your artwork should have a disciplined and professional sense of presentation, design, vitality and craftsmanship. Later assignments carry greater weight in determining final grade. Class attendance is compulsory at each of the class critiques. This is when we share our solutions to the assignments with the class as a group. (This is a very important part of the class and the learning experience). Individual appointments will be scheduled. Three tardies equal one absence. After three absences you grade will be lowered one letter.

A — credit for all assignments, regular attendance, class participation, excellent achievement in craftsmanship and creativity and a high degree of individual progress.
B — credit for all assignments, regular attendance, class participation, above average achievement in craftsmanship and creativity.
C — credit for all assignments, regular attendance.
D — credit for less than 5 assignments, regular attendance.
F — credit for less than 4 assignments or non-attendance during a critique.
W — official withdrawal from the course.
N — Used at the option of the instructor.
I — NO INCOMPLETES will be given in this course.
Cr — achievements of objectives of the course at ‘C’ level or higher.
NC — achievement of objectives of the course with less than minimal passing achievement.
Cr/NC option, must be in writing and declared by the end of the 10th week of classes.
