CATALOG DESCRIPTION

This college-level composition course promotes critical reading, the writing process, rhetorical principles, research strategies, and the documentation of sources.

One of the following prerequisites is required: placement into ENG 100, Grade of “C” or better in ENG 22 and co-requisite enrollment in ENG 100W, grade of “C” or better in ENG 23 and co-requisite enrollment in ENG 100W, OR approval of designated Language Arts representative.

Activities Required at Scheduled Times Other Than Class Times

1. Typed completion of written assignments and digital upload of finished assignments to Laulima. This means that you either have access to a desktop or laptop and an Internet connection, or that you schedule time to complete your assignments on campus.
2. Completion of the WCC Library Research Units.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The student learning outcomes for the course are:

1) Write complex and well-reasoned compositions in language, style, and structure appropriate to particular purposes and audiences.
2) Engage in a writing process that includes exploring ideas, considering multiple points of view, developing and supporting a thesis, revising with the help of peer and instructor feedback, editing, and proofreading.
3) Find, evaluate, integrate, and properly document information from libraries, the Internet, and other sources, with an eye for reliability, bias, and relevance.
4) Read for main points, perspective, and purpose, and analyze the effectiveness of a variety of rhetorical strategies in order to integrate that knowledge into their writing.

WRITTEN COMMUNICATION FOUNDATION HALLMARKS

To satisfy the FW requirement, this course will:

1) Introduce students to different forms of college-level writing, including, but not limited to, academic discourse, and guide them in writing for different purposes and audiences.

2) Provide students with guided practice of writing processes — planning, drafting, critiquing, revising, and editing — making effective use of written and oral feedback from the faculty instructor and from peers.

3) Require at least 5,000 words of finished prose — equivalent to approximately 20 typewritten/printed pages.

4) Help students develop information literacy by teaching search strategies, critical evaluation of information and courses, and effective selection of information for specific purposes and audiences, teach appropriate ways to incorporate such information, acknowledge sources and provide citations.

5) Help students read texts and make use of a variety of sources in expressing their own ideas, perspectives, and/or opinions in writing.

COURSE CONTENT

By the end of the course, students should be able to:

1) Understand and use the major steps in the writing process.

2) Have developed a sense of writing for an audience and understand how the audience, purpose, and language can influence the writer’s choices.

3) Understand and use college-level principles of composition such as unity, development, and organization.

4) Edit using standard principles of grammar, punctuation, mechanics, and usage of the English language.

5) Have written approximately twenty pages of prose using a variety of rhetorical strategies.

6) Know how to make effective use of writers’ resources such as handbooks, library materials, interviews, and databases.

7) Respond thoughtfully in writing to published and peer essays and to recognize features of a writer’s style and organization.

8) Use and document material from primary and secondary sources without plagiarizing.

9) Develop confidence as writers and have an awareness of their strengths and weaknesses.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

Students write a series of papers, totaling about 5,000 words or 20 pages of finished work, plus other informal writing assignments such as free writes. Students will also work in peer groups, and are required to maintain a portfolio of their writing which includes a writer’s statement, or a self-assessment of their work. Prepared participation in discussions, conferences, regular attendance, the library units, and other class activities are also required.

MATERIALS REQUIRED

You can buy this text from the campus bookstore or from Amazon.
2) English 100 Class Packet. This will be passed out in class.

3) Course Supplies:
   This term, we have a grant that purchased many of the supplies for you. We will be giving you a writer’s notebook, a binder with tabs, and a two-pocket portfolio. In addition, please bring these items to each class session:
   - a. Folder paper
   - b. Pens (Black or blue, and 1 Red)
   - c. Highlighter
   - d. Paper Hole puncher

4) Also bring resilience, patience, creativity and cooperative respect to every class session!

COURSE THEME

The course readings focus on the topic of food. Central to this theme are these questions:

- How does food influence our identity and culture?
- What should we eat? What affects our diet choices?
- How can we eat “well”?

COURSE TASKS

Writing and Revision. Students write several major essays, which go through multiple drafts. The section below entitled “Drafting and Revision Process” describes this process. Assignments also include informal writing assignments such as Laulima posts and post responses.

Reading Quizzes and Midterm. Students take weekly quizzes online. The midterm and the final will be given in the classroom.

Peer Response. It’s important to have an audience for your writing—readers help us clarify and hone our work. You will be sharing your writing with your peers and responding constructively to their work. Given the public nature of the work you do in this class, please avoid writing anything in any of your assignments that you are unwilling to share.

Library Research Units. Please complete these online units by week 10.

Conferences. Students who come in for individual conferences usually do better in the class. You can drop in during my office hours, schedule an appointment through MySuccess on Laulima, or you can just ask me for a conference time. Please bring your writer’s notebook or a piece of writing to discuss.

Maintain Communication: Please check your Hawaii.edu email daily, as this is how I send reminders and communicate with each of you.

PAPER AND ASSIGNMENT POLICY

Complete your assignments on time. Growth as a writer requires steady and consistent effort. Work completed on schedule gives me time to read and respond to your work so that you can make revisions.

You will have three “No Questions Asked” coupons that enables you to make-up an assignment or exam up to one week past the due date. After using your three coupons, all late assignments will result in an automatic zero. Coupons cannot be shared or replicated. Unused coupons will be counted toward extra credit if you had submitted all assignments and completed all exams on time.

Demonstrate your best writing ability on all of your assignments. As this is a writing course, all of your writing—including Laulima posts, peer reviews, and emails—should demonstrate your best writing ability. Proofread for typos and grammatical errors, and please avoid abbreviations or texting codes.

Put Papers in MLA Format. Please type and format your papers according to MLA standards: double-spaced and 12 point, Times New Roman font.

Use the Official MLA Heading on all submitted assignments. Below is a sample of a heading.

DRAFTING AND REVISION PROCESS FOR MAJOR WRITING

First draft. The first draft is scored primarily on timely submission and the completion of the minimum requirements (length and attention to the prompt).

1. Upload the first draft to Laulima assignments and print it out.
2. Receive and give peer feedback.

Second Draft. This is the draft that I score for quality.

1. Make changes based on the feedback you received during peer review, conferences or through Brainfuse.
2. Upload the second draft to Laulima assignments.
3. Submit a hard copy in your two-pocket portfolio.
4. For some assignments and in some circumstances, you may be required to revise this draft before you receive a grade.

Optional Third Revision. You can revise and re-submit your assignments for re-grading after the second draft, under these circumstances:

1. You had turned in the first and second drafts on time.
2. You turn in the third draft by the due date.
3. You submit a hard copy in the two-pocket portfolio along with the second draft with my comments. If you lose the draft with my comments, you cannot re-submit the assignment.
4. Most importantly, you make major revisions after one of the following:
   a. a conference with the instructor
b. a conference with the alaka‘i
c. a conference at the Writing Lab
d. feedback from Brainfuse (attach the Brainfuse feedback)
5. You provide evidence of your conference by filling out a conference form, which requires you to write a summary of the tutor’s recommendations. The form also must be signed by your instructor, alaka‘i, or tutor.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Schedule ten hours to fifteen hours each week for the course work. Most students will need ten to fifteen hours a week to learn what is necessary. Please schedule this time into your schedule, and plan to log in to the Laulima site at least 2-3 times per week.

Plan for the Unexpected. The Internet will fail, your computer will crash, or Laulima will be down the hour before an assignment is due. Count on it, and allow time for delays and tech problems.

Netiquette. Online discussions and peer feedback on written work are invaluable. However, we must observe appropriate behavior online, just as we would in a classroom.

Netiquette, short for “network etiquette” or “Internet etiquette,” is a set of social conventions that facilitate interaction over the internet. Here are a few guidelines:

1. Do not use all CAPS in online communication. ALL CAPS usually indicate that the writer is shouting, and this could set up an uncomfortable situation.
2. Use correct spelling, capitalization and punctuation in all correspondence. Do not use “texting” language.
3. At all times, be respectful to each other. Choose your words carefully. When communicating online, words can be misunderstood, so make sure to proofread before posting and consider how someone might misinterpret them.
4. Express differences of opinion in a polite and rational way.
5. Maintain an environment of constructive criticism when commenting on the work of other students.
6. Avoid bringing up irrelevant topics when involved in group discussions or other collaborative activities.
7. If you ever receive an e-mail or response in discussions that is not appropriate, please contact your instructor immediately. I have a no tolerance policy to anything that appears to be harassing, impolite, insulting or which uses profanity. Situations like this may be referred to the Dean and corrective action will be taken.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

This is a discussion class, and relies on everyone’s attendance and participation. You will receive a grade at the end of the semester for participation and attendance. Plan to remain in the classroom for the full period. Absences, arriving late, or leaving class early will reduce your engagement points.

Six or more absences is an automatic F.

It is your responsibility to keep up with work that you have missed. Ask your classmates for copies of notes or handouts that you missed. Review the class notes.

Come a little early and stay for the full amount of time. Please come early and check yourself off on the attendance sheet. Arriving after the start of class and within the first 15 minutes of class is a tardy. Five tardies count as an absence. Missing 15 or more minutes of class—at the beginning, middle or end—counts as an absence.
CLASS PARTICIPATION POLICY

You show engagement by preparing for class discussion, taking notes, staying on task during class activities. You also demonstrate engagement by listening actively and contributing insights or appropriate comments to the online and classroom discussion.

Read the assigned materials before class. The literature and background material we read provides us with the common ground to anchor our conversations. Without that common ground, our conversations will lose its richness.

I’ll call on everyone sometime—so be prepared. Some things you might share: word definitions that you looked up, personal experience that illustrates the reading, questions, puzzlements, insights. We will have weekly in-class writing exercises or quizzes to ensure that you are keeping up with the reading, and to help stimulate class discussion.

Minimize Classroom Distractions. Let’s use our class time to interact and engage with each other. Please turn off and put away your cell phone before class begins. If we do work on the computer, stay on task.

Please no eating in class, UNLESS you brought enough to share with everyone.

Avoid walking in and out of the classroom, particularly during discussion and presentations.

Any distracting behavior—including texting, off-task Internet surfing, walking in and out of the classroom, side conversations—will result in lost engagement points.

Come to class prepared. Bring to every class your packet, notebook, your supplies, and do the daily assignments.

Maintain a portfolio. Save all of your drafts that have my comments on them. You receive points for second and third revisions only if you turn in with the draft with my comments. You’ll need to turn all of your drafts in the final portfolio. This material may be used for practice in revision, for conference discussion, and to note your progress.

At the end of the course, you will write a reflection about your journey as a writer. Since you need to refer to your own writing and the revisions you made, keep all of your work so you can review them. You’ll also be submitting a final portfolio.

Here are general guidelines for the grade on writing assignments:

100% to 90% of possible points – This paper has a clear, original thesis, is well organized, has very few grammar/spelling/punctuation errors, has varied sentence structure, and—very important—is interesting to read. It meets the minimum length requirement.

89% to 80% of possible points -- This paper also has a clear thesis and is fairly well organized but is not as original as an A paper, has a few grammar/spelling/punctuation errors, and is fairly interesting to read.
It meets the minimum length requirement.

79% to 70% of possible points – Although this paper has a thesis, its use of supporting evidence and organization makes it difficult to understand. It includes unrelated ideas and has significant grammar/spelling/punctuation errors, although it still holds a reader’s attention. It meets the minimum length requirement.

69% to 60% of possible points – This paper has a weak or unclear thesis and lacks supporting evidence and organization. It has many errors in grammar/spelling/punctuation, and word usage, and doesn’t hold the reader’s attention. It may fall short of the minimum length requirement.

59% or less of possible points – An F paper is often a very rough draft, which needs to be reworked into a more final form. It may fall short of the minimum length requirement.

Final Course Grade
At the end of the semester, you will receive a letter grade on your transcript. The course grade will be based on the following percentages of total points:
A - 90% or better
B - 80% or better
C - 70% or better
D - 60% or better
F - fails to achieve 60%
N – measurable progress and regular attendance, but doesn’t meet course SLOs
W – official withdrawal through the registrar by deadline

COLLEGE POLICIES

Windward Community College is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution.
Dropping a Class. The last day to withdraw without a “W” grade is January 30, 2019. The last day to withdraw from class with a “W” grade is March 26, 2019. As English 100 is a required class, you cannot take it for CR/NC. If you stop participating in class and neglect to officially drop it, you will receive a failing grade.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic honesty is required of all students, and you are responsible for the content and integrity of all work you submit. Each student is responsible for understanding and following campus policies on academic honesty. Refer to the college catalog for more information. You will be guilty of cheating if you:

- Submit or claim the work of others as your own (plagiarism).
- Use or obtain unauthorized assistance in any academic work.
- Give unauthorized assistance to other students.
- Modify a submitted examination or assignment for the purpose of obtaining additional credit.
- Misrepresent the content of submitted work.

In some of your essays, you need to cite your sources, and synthesize ideas into something that is new and your own. The work of others should be explicitly indicated. For example, use quote marks or summarize with a reference to the original author. If you have any questions about collaborative work, plagiarism, or any other issues related to academic honesty, please ask me.

Students can upload papers to http://www.TurnItIn.com to have papers checked for authenticity, highlighting where the paper potentially fails to appropriately reference sources.

Students who commit an act of academic dishonesty, such as cheating or plagiarism, will receive a failing grade for the compromised assignments.

All cases of academic dishonesty are referred to the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.
