Learn how religion influences political decision-making and develop an understanding of the historical roots of contemporary events.

For more information, contact Sarah Hadmack at or

REL 150 and HIST 151
Tuesday & Thursday
9:45 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

This Learning Community uses a thematic, interdisciplinary approach to education. Students will go on field trips, get to know their classmates, listen to guest speakers and dive deeper into the topics. Students will earn the same grade for both courses as every assignment integrates both disciplines. Upon completion of the Learning Community, students will achieve all 6 credits of the Global Multicultural Focus requirements for the AA degree.