COURSE TASKS

Students will work on a number of home assignments and in-class projects. Projects will initially be focused on proportions and drawing accuracy. Other, more advanced concepts, such as values, prospective, and creating a narrative will be introduced as we move through the course.

Students are expected to follow instruction and push themselves and their artwork. I believe that applied effort and practice are far more important then inherent skill. In this class, students who apply themselves and work hard will rise above those who rely on skill alone.

ASSESSMENT TASKS AND GRADING

PROMPT AND REGULAR ATTENDANCE IS MANDATORY:

- Students are granted 3 "free" absences, excused or otherwise. Upon fourth absence a student's grade will fall 5 points on a 100-point scale. A turns to A-, A- turns to B...etc. With each additional absence the students grade will continue to fall at the same rate.
- Four late arrivals equal one absence. You are considered late if you arrive after the teacher takes attendance.
- Leaving early is same penalty as being late. Leaving early 30 minutes or more is considered an absence.
- Six absences, in total, will result in the student failing the course.

Guidelines for Home Assignments

- You will regularly receive home assignments that will be due the following week. Read the instructions for each assignment carefully and talk to me if you have any questions. I am reachable by phone or in person during office hours.
- The amount of time needed to complete each assignment may very. Follow both the letter and the spirit of all instructions given for each assignment.
- Firmly spray-fix all drawings at home, before bringing them to class. (Read instructions on can.)
- Clearly print your full name, lower right corner, on all displayed drawings.
- Grades will be based on the quality and intensity of your involvement in the class and your work. 35% In-Class Work, 25% Home Studies, 40% Final Project(s)

IN-CLASS WORK: worth 35 points

Work ethic:

You are in class working on prescribed course work diligently each day. You are working hard on course work and are not goofing off, chatting with, or distracting other students.

Creativity:

You apply what you have learned in a creative and expressive way, not seeking merely the easiest and fastest way to fulfill the minimum course requirements. This will come into play more clearly in the second half of the course.

An active learning attitude:

You ask good and probing questions and are constantly pushing for a greater understanding of concepts presented. You treat your fellow students and instructor with respect. You work with your fellow students to solve problems and collectively raise your artwork to the next level.

Subject matter retention and proficiency:

The course material in the is class is cumulative. Each new project will build upon what we have learned in the last. As a result, it is important that students remember the skills and concepts presented in earlier projects.

How your grade will be calculated:

In-class Work
+ Homework assignments
+ Final projects
- Attendance
= Final Grade: /100
Number of absences:	Number of late arrivals:
IN-CLASS WORK:/3	35 $(_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{_{1}}}}}}}}$
