WINDWARD COMMUNITY COLLEGE MISSION STATEMENT
Windward Community College offers innovative programs in the arts and sciences and opportunities to gain knowledge and understanding of Hawai‘i and its unique heritage. With a special commitment to support the access and educational needs of Native Hawaiians, we provide O‘ahu’s Ko‘olau region and beyond with liberal arts, career and lifelong learning in a supportive and challenging environment — inspiring students to excellence.

CATALOG DESCRIPTION
ART 114 is an introductory course focusing on color theory and the application of color as related to studio art practice.

ACTIVITIES SCHEDULED TIMES OTHER THAN CLASS TIMES
Field trips may be arranged during class time. Attendance is only optional if student has a valid excuse; transportation provided.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES
- Access information from multiple sources and use critical thinking and problem-solving skills to express ideas clearly.
- Recognize and comprehend color interaction, color phenomena, color theories and vocabulary specific to color study.
- Master skills in paint mixing, color matching and application and properly use the three types of color applications: opacity, transparency and optical mixing.
- Formulate a personal and expressive sense of color demonstrating an understanding of color theory and application.

TEXT: There is no required text for this class.
Recommended:
COURSE TASKS
The Course is divided into Five Sections of Study. (Changes may be made, as necessary, without notice)

1. Achromatic Color Studies
   - (Black and White), Understanding value and its relationship to color.

2. Color Theory and Practical Application of color
   - Basic Principles and Vocabulary of Color: The color wheel, hue, value, intensity, temperature, tints, tones, and shades, opaque, transparent, and optical color mixes. Physical properties of additive and subtractive color, pigment and light primaries.

3. Color Harmony
   - Complementary, analogous, monochromatic, achromatic, primary, secondary and polychromatic color.

   - A series of exercises concerning the interaction of color, simultaneous contrast, color nuance, and middle mixtures.

5. Personal/subjective, arbitrary and emotional use of color application
   To understand and create specific individual outcomes.

ASSESSMENT TASKS AND GRADING

Attendance
Attendance is part of the course grade and will be taken each session.
Students are expected to attend every class and arrive on time to stay for the whole duration of the class. Students missing more than two unexcused class sessions or who are frequently late for class may have grade lowered one step for each missing session.
Two late attendances equal one absence.

Projects
All projects must be completed for this course and missing work may lower the grade.
Do not discard any work before the end of the semester, as a final portfolio of a few selected class projects may be required at the end of the semester.

Class Critiques (Discussion of art work)
Each student must be present and turn in work for critiques on the specified date.
Participation in discussions and critiques is required to evaluate students’ understanding of course competencies.
   - Class members will critique finished projects in group sessions. Assignments must be on time for all critiques, or the grade may be lowered. Students learn from each other and group discussions of work are invaluable to the process. A student will never be intimidated during a critique. This procedure is a time for learning and all work is looked at anonymously, with no name on the front of a project. Each student has something valuable to contribute. Sometimes, the best learning takes place when work is improperly done and problem solving is discovered during group presentations. Participation in critiques is part of course grade.

SUPPLY LIST will be given as a separate document and Available in the WCC Bookstore.
The study of color can be vital and exciting in any profession and life experience. Color is involved in everything we do. Understanding color theory can make a difference in the success of one's business or personal life. Color principles are not limited to an artist palette. Although understanding color is vital for the visual artist, it is also fundamental for theater or dance production, 2-D and 3-D designers, fashion industry, architects, realtors, business owners, entertainment facilities, interior and exterior store design, food display in markets and restaurants, florists, homemakers designing family spaces, all care professions such as hospitals elderly facilities, hospice providers, children’s daycare, and the list goes on. Understanding how color theory works and how to make color is one of utmost exciting powers we as individuals can relate to for success in any situation.

CELL PHONES
The use of cell phones for texting or conversation is prohibited in class except for an emergency or as directed by the instructor. Instructor will advise if phones are needed for class work.

COURSE CONTENT
Completion of color projects will fulfill the course competencies. There will be a lecture or demonstration to introduce each process. Most work is explored and started in sketchbooks before continuing on another format for presentation on specific due date.

LEGEND
A proper legend will be printed on the back of each project with the following information
- Name:
- Course Number:
- Assignment title:
- Date Due

Sketchbook
This is part of the course requirements, as some assignments will be started in a sketchbook. Although most sketchbook work is exploratory and unfinished, each area of study is to be included. Part of the final grade may be calculated from sketchbook work.

ASSIGNMENTS
Are done outside of class time by completing class projects or research.

GRADING POLICY
The purpose of grading student work is to encourage the learning process. There will be no grading on the “curve” since all students come here with different levels of experience, or no experience at all.

During most of the semester grades will be assigned as CR/NC in order to encourage students. Exceptional work will be given a CR+. This policy enables one to learn without pressure and to promote understanding of each concept. Toward the end of the semester, when a personal level of confidence is established, grades may be assigned in a number system to be averaged at the end of the semester with all other class work and participation.

Students will pass this course and gain a very good grade by participating regularly, completing all assignments and class work, keeping regular attendance, and achieving substantial growth. This course is designed to give every student an opportunity to attain personal success at whatever level he or she is able. This outcome will make beginners proud of new and creative achievements as well as offer an opportunity for seasoned artists to become better artists. The objective of this course is to learn. Therefore, work may be redone for a higher grade anytime during the semester. All makeup work is due one (1) week before the end of the semester. No makeup work will be accepted after that time.

KEY TO GRADING PROCEDURE
Grades are translated as follows
Semester grades are translated into letter grades. All course work will be evaluated and averaged in with other criteria. Other grading criteria include: class attendance, work submitted on time during the semester, effort, personal growth, attitude, and participation in class discussions. A final project will be given only if it serves the needs of this class.

Toward the end of the semester grades may be given in numerical content as follows:

- A+ = 9.5 to 10.0 / A = 9.5 / A- = 9.0 to 9.4

Each grade will follow the same sequence:

- B = 8.0 - 8.9
- C = 7.0 - 7.9
- D = 6.0 - 6.9
- F = 6.0 and below.

GRADING NOTATION:
A= Excellent completion of all semester work
B= Above average completion of all semester work
C= Average completion of all semester work.
D= Below average completion of all semester work.
F= Non completion of all semester work.
N= The “N” grade indicates that the student has worked conscientiously, attended regularly, finished all work, fulfilled course responsibilities, and has made measurable progress but if the student has not achieved the minimal student learning outcomes and is not prepared to succeed at the next level, or if the student has made consistent progress, but is unable to complete the class due to extenuating circumstances, such as major health, personal, or family emergencies.

- MySuccess: Students may be referred for extra help or advising through MySuccess. Students can also explore resources at MySuccess.Hawaii.edu and windward.hawaii.edu/MySuccess

Students who may have unusual or difficult circumstances
In rare cases, there may be situations where a student may qualify to gain extra credit or equivalent credit to help pass the course. Sometimes, due to unforeseen health, hardship, family or job-related circumstances, a student may need an alternate method to complete the course requirements. This option is available by discretion of the instructor and is not an automatic expectation of the course. Since this requires extra time for grading and instruction, a student must be responsible and committed to the course to have the instructor consider this option. This opportunity is not for a student who misses class and assignments regularly without informing the instructor of the situation immediately. The student or a representative on his or her behalf must contact the instructor at the time of the problem to qualify. This is not an available option for a student who does not communicate with the instructor about the hardship when it occurs.

Incomplete grade. This is a temporary grade given at the instructor’s option when a student has failed to complete a small part of a course because of circumstances beyond his or her control.

Please Note:
The grade of incomplete is used for unusual or emergency circumstances only. Only a small portion of the course can be missed to qualify for this grade. An incomplete grade is not given when a student misses a large portion of the course content, attendance and assignments. When a major portion of the course has been missed, the student may receive an “F” grade or request a complete withdrawal from the course through the registrar’s office, by the published deadline. An “N” grade is given by discretion of instructor.

DISABILITIES ACCOMMODATION
If student has a physical, sensory, health, cognitive, or mental health disability that could limit ability to fully participate in this class, students are encouraged to contact the Disability Specialist Counselor to discuss reasonable accommodations that will help to succeed in this class.
