ICS 281 Course Details

Welcome to ICS 281 – Ethical Hacking. In this course we will be exploring some of the tools, techniques, and principles of the technical side of computer offense, and use findings and outcomes to drive tools, techniques, policies, and procedures for computer defense. This class will examine information security topics and related issues across many disciplines/domains including scanning & evasion, system attack, wireless hacking, security in the cloud, Trojans, cryptography and cryptographic attacks, social engineering, and overall penetration testing. The main goal in this course is to expose students to the techniques and ethical issues of using offensive cyber techniques to improve overall defensive cyber posture.
Course Description: This course covers basic ethical hacking techniques also known as white hat hacking. It stresses the moral and legal issues about hacking and how these techniques can be used to defend against attacks as well as to perform authorized system security evaluation testing (3 hours lecture). Pre-Requisite(s): ICS 171 with a C or better, or consent of the instructor.

Student Learning Outcomes: Student learning outcomes for this course are:
- Demonstrate how to apply current cyber-attack, countermeasures and best practices using current cyber defense tools, methods, and components
- Implement a defense incident response and recovery strategies

Project could be focused on the media view of IT security and Information Warfare. Other projects will be a group project based looking at a controversial issue within the IT world. Projects will require independent research.

Returns: The instructor endeavors to return all graded assignments to the students within two weeks of receipt (most times its less than 1). Exams may take up to 2 weeks to grade and return.

Late Policy: If a student will miss a deadline or due date due to work, deployment, medical or personal problems, etc., they MUST notify the instructor ahead of time. All missed deliverables will be given a grade of zero unless prior arrangements are made with the instructor. This should NOT be a common occurrence.

<td>Instructor Expectations and Principles:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>----------------------------------------</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1) It is your personal responsibility as an online student to ensure that you have access to a reliable computer with the Internet connection.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2) It is the burden of the student to demonstrate mastery of course material to the instructor.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3) If you are having problems – ask! Don’t let confusion grow. I will assist you as needed, but you still must get the correct solution before you get credit – I will not do your thinking for you.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4) You can work with others, But ensure you must submit your own work - do not “work together” on a solution then make copies for each person to turn in. If you “work together” to gain understanding, ensure you separate before you prepare your submission – if the submissions look too similar you may be asked to prove that it is your work.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5) Don’t let other students copy – it is your responsibility to ensure that your work is not made available to others. Academic dishonesty “F” s often times comes in pairs.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6) Any activity that diminishes the instructor’s ability to analyze and rate a student’s individual knowledge of course material is prohibited.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7) Complete assignments on time. Assignments should be professional and meet the highest standards with regards to: logic, research, and content, grammar, and spelling.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8) Be prepared for tests and exams. This can be accomplished by working all assignments and reading ahead.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9) Think before putting pen to paper (or fingers to keyboard). Analysis is key; thinking and understanding prior to attempting to solve a problem is critical.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10) Time goes by very quickly and there is a lot of work to be accomplished. You will likely be putting in anywhere from 10-12 hours a week doing assignments, reading, or doing research. Unexpected things happen often in life – do your best to get ahead so you can more easily deal with these events. Good time management and study discipline will be critical for keeping up in the class and doing well.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11) Communicate early and often with the instructor – and discussions of material (not exams) with other students is highly encouraged.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12) If you have problems or issues (e.g. illness, housing, death in the family, etc.) during the semester, let me know as soon as possible; we can work together to get your through this class. But I can’t help you if I don’t know about it.</td>

Conduct and Academic Dishonesty Policies

Online Conduct:   Everything done electronically on the university systems or via email can be considered public record and you are part of the larger, global, online community. As such, it is expected that all students demonstrate appropriate language, behavior, respect, and understanding that would prevail in any campus situation. All students should do their part to ensure a pleasant and safe online environment for others – including:

a) Watching for virus, worms, bots, etc. Do not allow these items, or any other type of code that disrupts or interrupts/interferes with other users’ use of the online environment.

b) Showing respect for all faculty, students, staff regardless of age, race, gender, religion, national origin, veteran’s status, disabilities, sexual orientation, etc.

c) Being honest. Misrepresentation of any kind will not be tolerated. This includes any type of identity theft or intentional electronic “fakery” (spoofing, relaying, etc.)

d) Being polite. Ensure that any content submitted electronically is free from harmful, threatening, libelous, and abusive content. This also includes profanity.

Submissions   The Internet is a great research tool, and it should be utilized as often as possible as a study aid; but please ensure that you DO YOUR OWN WORK. Turning in material that is plagiarized is a serious offense. Study and use the information found on the internet (and any other sources) to help you understand, but when it comes time to do your work – use your own words, and do not copy, cite, or attempt to “paraphrase” or “rephrase” someone else’s work. If you truly understand the material, you will be able to use your own words and examples. Also, consider your source when reading information on the Internet – not everything out there would be considered a “reputable” source. Be aware that all submitted items can be run through academic tools which scan for and can catch, plagiarism attempts.

Academic Dishonesty: The penalties for academic dishonesty are explicitly noted in the Windward Community College student conduct code. Students are expected to maintain the highest moral and ethical standards. Any student, who cheats, aids others or hands in work that is not his/her own, will be penalized as outlined in the student conduct code. Furthermore, each student is responsible for ensuring that their work is not made available to others for study or duplication. Ignorance of this policy is no excuse of any academic dishonesty. Ensure your work is your own. Copyright infringement or violation of patent, trademark, proprietary information, and/or confidentiality agreements will not be tolerated. Consequences include (but are not limited to)

1st offense – a “0” for the assignment for all involved and a written warning
2nd offence – an “F” for the class

*The instructor reserves the right to notify the administrative offices of any academic dishonesty violations – this can incur separate consequences such as probation or worse.
