CATALOG DESCRIPTION

SOC 231 focuses on juvenile delinquency in the U.S. and examines the nature of and trends in juvenile delinquency, explanations for and theories of juvenile delinquency, and institutional responses to and treatment of juvenile delinquency in the U.S. juvenile justice system. (WCC: DS, WI)

WRITING INTENSIVE (WI)

Writing Intensive (WI) Courses are part of a University of Hawai‘i system wide movement to incorporate more writing in courses from all disciplines. A WI course is a discipline-specific course in which writing plays a major integrated role. Students in course sections designated as a “WI” (preceding the course title in the Schedule of Classes) learn to understand course content through writing and to write in ways appropriate to that discipline.

Passing English 100 with a "C" or better is a prerequisite before students take the two required WI courses for the Associate in Arts degree. Students transferring to some bachelor’s degree campuses in the UH system may bring two or three WI courses with them to count for the bachelor’s degree.

The hallmarks of a writing intensive course are:

1. The class uses writing to promote the learning of course materials.
2. The class provides interaction between the instructor and students while students do assigned writing. At least one student-teacher conference on a writing assignment is required in writing intensive courses.
3. Written assignments contribute significantly to each student’s course grade.
4. The class requires students to do a substantial amount of writing—a minimum of 4,000 words, or about 16 pages.
5. To allow for meaningful professor-student interaction on each student’s writing, the class is restricted to 20 students.

The course has been designed to allow students to find meaning in what they write, which makes learning more fun. Enjoy!

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of Sociology 231, students should be able to:

- Apply sociological theories of juvenile delinquency to contemporary cases.
- Explain the multiple causes of juvenile delinquency.
- Describe the differences in male and female offenders.
- Describe how social institutions prevent and/or contribute to juvenile delinquency.

REQUIRED READING

- Readings for this class have been provided free of charge. Please see links throughout the course calendar on our Laulima Homepage.
- Plan on about an hour to read through the main reading in each section. Some students print out the reading so that they can highlight main points of paragraphs and make notes in the margins; keep this in mind, in case it might help you.
- In order to learn the material in the readings, here are study suggestions to help you!

A Few General Guidelines

- The Laulima experts strongly suggest that we use Firefox ESR (Win 32 or 64/Mac/Linux) as the internet browser; these seem to work best. I use Google Chrome which works just fine.
- Because we use the internet for submitting assignments and accessing resources, students must have regular, reliable access to a computer with a strong internet connection.
- Computer/internet problems are not acceptable reasons for missing or late assignments; submit your work early, just in case.
- Have fun learning about society and culture from a sociological perspective; it can change your life! :)

FILMS

- We will be watching several really interesting films and videos in this class that are meant to help students better understand the course material.
- Links to the films and videos are available on the main page under the particular section.

COURSE GRADING

Discussion Papers (50% of Grade)

- As this is a sociology class, we will be likely be discussing sensitive topics. Windward CC is committed to ensuring a safe, civil, learning, and working environment in which the dignity of every individual is respected; each of us shares this responsibility. With this in mind, students need to participate with an open mind; must have mutual respect; avoid personal attacks; and agree to disagree. If you cannot agree to these ground rules, please withdraw from the course and find a course better suited for your needs. Mahalo!

- Please see the Discussions link at the top of the Homepage (as well as throughout the course calendar) for specific instructions, required word-count, the grading rubric, and the 5 Discussion paper topics.

- The discussions are treated like papers in that they are a formal piece of writing with opportunities to submit drafts of these discussions throughout the class for feedback. See course calendar.
These discussions will be based on assignments and films from each section. So in order to do well on the discussions, complete all of the assignments in the section first, before posting.

For each of your Discussions, take time to think about what you want to say, and spend time writing about it. Brief posts earn few points, so take time to talk to each other!

When replying to other posts, avoid spending time telling the person how great their post is -- that's the instructor's job! :) Check out the rubric for Discussions to see how the replies will be graded.

Here is a model of how to phrase a Discussion Reply. Please click this link, it will help you.

Discussions are graded after the replies are due for each particular Discussion. Follow the course calendar (and ignore the Gradebook) for all due dates.

Students are responsible for making sure that all of their posts are on the Discussion page; check to see that it's there after you post it. Emailed Discussions will not be accepted.

Check the Gradebook link for feedback on your Discussion posts: this should help you on future discussions.

The Introduction post and the Final Good-bye post are each 10 points extra credit — easy!

Posting on-time helps the discussion, so let's talk sociology!

Late posts and/or replies will receive a 50% reduction of the points; no exceptions (ie, late post = -25 points; late reply = -25 points). The due dates are shown on our class calendar on the homepage.

All edits must be complete before the due date and time in order for the Discussion to be 'on time'. If a post or reply is edited after the due date, it will be considered late and will receive a 25-point deduction.

There are 5 discussion topics worth a total of 100 points for each discussion: 50 points for the post, and 50 points for the reply.

(100 x 5 = 500 points).

Quizzes (50% of Grade)

Each section on our course calendar begins with a 'study guide' for that section's quiz. Each study guide lists the exact questions for that particular quiz (although only 10 of the questions listed there will be on the quiz), so use the study guides to help you study for the quizzes by answering the questions on the study guide before you take each quiz!

The quizzes will be based on all assignments and films for each section. So in order to do well on the quizzes, complete all of the assignments in the section first before taking the quizzes, as each quiz can only be taken one time.

Before you begin to take each quiz, make sure you have a strong internet connection and study all available resources: Fifteen minutes is plenty of time to take a multiple-choice quiz with only 10 questions; it's not meant to be enough time to look up the answers to the questions. Please let me know if you need study suggestions; I have some strategies that work (see below).

Please see calendar on Laulima’s home page for due dates for each of the quizzes.

Because the quiz questions may be used in other on-line sections, students will not be able to review the quizzes after completion.

There are 10 quizzes throughout the term, and they are worth 50% of the final grade (each quiz is worth 50 points).

Each quiz may be taken early; quizzes taken after the due date and time will receive a 50% reduction in grade; no exceptions.

Students won't do well on the quizzes by simply reading the material. Here are study suggestions that work: Click Here
• There is an extra credit quiz called 'Extra Credit Syllabus Quiz' worth 20 points extra credit! Check out the course calendar for the due date. You can find the quiz in the Quizzes tool on the Laulima homepage.

N grade indicates that the student has worked conscientiously, attended regularly, finished all work, fulfilled course responsibilities, and has made measurable progress. However, either the student has not achieved the minimal student learning objectives and is not yet prepared to succeed at the next level, or the student has made consistent progress in the class but is unable to complete the class due to extenuating circumstances, such as major health, personal or family emergencies.

If at the end of the semester you feel you qualify for an N grade, you will need to send me an email no later than the last due date indicated on our course calendar that explains how you qualify for the N grade. If I don't hear from you, you will be given whatever grade your total points add up to, as shown above.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY, CHEATING, AND PLAGIARISM

Work submitted by a student must be the student’s own work. The work of others should be explicitly marked, such as through use of quotes or summarizing with reference to the original author.

In this class, students who commit academic dishonesty, cheating or plagiarism will receive a failing grade for plagiarized assignments. All cases of academic dishonesty may be referred to the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.
